The Bowling Green Democrat gives the names of seventeen Republican candidates for Auditor, subject to the decision of the convention, eight of whom are from Bowling Green. This is three or four more than we had yet heard of.

Assemblyman Brennor, of New York, poisoned himself. Cause-nervous prostration brought on by overwork. This is the first instance on record in which a New York legislator was ever known to hurt himself by hard work. His body should be embalmed and placed in the national mu-seum, at Washington.

As will be seen by proceedings of the Legislature on the first page, C. W. Bond, of Taledo, Col. Len. A. Harris, of Cincinuati, and Henry C. Post, have been confirmed as Commissioners of Fisheries in Ohio. In the selection of Mr. Bond, the Sunday Journal discovers a small speck in the vicinity of Manmee Bay, and at once revises and republishes its map of Foster's Political Desert of the Northwest.

On Monday next several of the railroads centering in Chicago will occupy their elegant new depot, corner of Canal and Mad-ison streets, which is said to be the finest in America. There are three main build ings of Philadelphia pressed brick, and all the tracks are roofed with iron and glass, under which 20 trains can agrive and depart at the same time. The passenger de-partment is finished in marble and black walnut, ceilings finely frescoed, and the total cost of the depot was $2,000,000.

WOLFORD POST, NO. 51, G. A. R. Sixteen Visiting Comrades from Totedo.

The organization of Wolford Post, No. 51, Grand Army of the Republic, at Yeager's Hall, this place, last evening, was an occasion to be remembered for years to come by the visiting delegation of Forsyth Post, Toledo, and some 33 of the soldier boys from this vicinity.

The visiting delegation, including Department Commander John S. Kountz, Gen. E. D. Lowd, of Philadelphia, (staff officer of Gen. Wagoner, Grand Commander of the United States), Assistant Adjutant-General Geo. S. Canfield, Capt. T. B. Terry, Commander, and all the officers of Forsyth Post, came up on the Lima Accommodation at 6:10 P. M., and were met at the depet by a delegation of ex-soldiers and a band and escorted to the Leaf House where supper was in waiting for them.

After supper the officers and visiting members were escorted to Yenger's Hall, where the usual formalities of initiating new members, installing the officers, etc., were gone through with in due forms of the order by Commander Kountz, Capt. Terry, Capt. Grover and others. On request of Commander Konntz, Gen

Lowd briefly and pointedly expressed the objects of the organization of the G. A. R. The following officers, who had been selected at a previous meeting of comrades, were duly installed:

re duly installed;

Commander—James Hayes,
Sen. Vice—Jas. F. Fleming,
Jun. Vice—Jas. Timmons,
Adjutant—Jacob Davis,
Officer of the Day—James Driscoll,
Quartermaster—C. Finkbeiner,
Officer of the Guard—Nathan Teft, Chaplain-Fred. Yeager.

These ceremonies were over by 9 P. M. when the Post and vasiting members resolved by mutual consent to spend the remaining hour in a social camp fire, in which each one called upon was to make a speech, tell a story, sing a song or retreat in good order. The officers of the new Post were first called out, in detail, and the latter date; pretty hard on the poor fellows, but a resolution of Congress, when it meets, will cure the defect. Ex-Senator knowing the value of time and the large Windom's advent as Secretary of the Treasnumber present to hear from, acquitted themselves nobly in a minute and a quar-ter speech, each. A number of the visiting members were 'drafted' and did noble service in the cause, principally anecdote of their experience in the late war. Gen. of their experience in the late war. Gen. OUR WASHINGTON LETTER

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 28, '81. That "uneasy lies the head that wears crown," is not alone applicable to the crowned heads of the world, but wilt ap-ply equally as well to Executives of Re-publics, is evident from the unfavorable New York Senators and staiwart leaders of that State have raised a howl about the nominations of Robertson and Tyler, for collectors of the ports of New York and Buffalo respectively. It does not meet their approbation, and in consequence, trouble its brewing. Still another rumor is, that Attorney-General McVeagh bitterly opposes the confirmation of W. E. Chandler, as Solicitor-General. Should his nomination be confirmed, a spark will be lit that will mar the corduality that should exist in the Cabinet. Still another sign of approaching storm is visible, in the attitude assumed by the present Solicitor-General Phillips, by the present Solicitor-General Phillips, and his friends. They can see no reason why he should be removed, and Mr.Chandler assume his duties, and the peace offer-ing, of a position on the bench of the Court of Claims, has been indignantly de-court of Claims, has been intignantly de-clined, and so on down through minor ap-pointments, the stalwarts have been dissat-isfied, plainly showing that President Gar-feld's bed is not to be "one of roses," The dead-lock in the Senate still continues, and is liable to do so for many days to come, unless there is a let dawn by one side or the other. The defeat of any motion to or the other. The defeat of any motion to go into Executive session, will prevent the confirmation of any nominations sent in by the President. Senator Mahone to-day makes his speech, and it is looked forward to with a great deal of interest, as he will attempt to fully explain the readjustment movement of Virginia, of which he is the champion, and also give his reasons for adopting the course which he is now pursuing.

John Bright, when asked recently how he had acquired such command of language, replied: "By almost learning by heart the purest English writers." He said he had not for many years gone to bed without reading some good English poem. Of late he confines himself to American poets—as Bryant, Longfellow, Whittier and Lowell, because the English poets of the present day have become, some of them too obscure, others too finical and affected to suit his taste.

The reviewer in Harper's Monthly, speaking recently of the author, G. P. R. James, said: "It is the mode to indulge in a good deal of cheap railery at the expense of James as a novelist, on the score mainly of the initials prefixed to his patronymic, and his trick of opening many of his tales with two men on horseback." J. G. Saxe reiers to the initials in these lines:
